In the name of God, the Beneficent, and the Merciful P. 1

The honorable brothers in charge of the Islamic Association for Palestine
God's peace, mercy and blessings be upon you,

I present to you this report that includes some remarks during my visit to Colombia and Brazil.

First: The city of Bogota. I arrived there on 9/25/94 and I was received by an honorable brother, Ahmad Al-Tayil, he is connected to Dr. Al-Tutenji. He is a full time preacher, noble and modest, successful in communication and preaching with the educated people of the country and he gives educational lectures in the universities about Islam. A number of people from the country have converted to Islam on his hands. But he is not successful with the uneducated, especially the Arab and Palestinian community in particular. He invited the Palestinians in Bogota to meet with me but just a few attended. Although I spoke with them in the lecture about their cause, no one donated anything. He is a follower of Sheik Jawdat Sa'id, one of the scholars of Syria.

Second: The city of ( Macao ). I visited this city, I found in it many positives. Most of the community is from Lebanon, owners of big businesses. The financial situation is very good.
Members of the administrative body are all good, they did not disagree with nor were they surprised at my talk that included news about the Islamic Movement. The head of the organization is Hussein Hijazi, his deputy is Talal Al-Hajj. The treasurer is Mazin Zaghoul and there is another member whose name is 'Akramah and another is Abou 'Isa. They are honorable men, they cooperated with me and collected for the purpose that we came for an amount of 15. I urge you to take care of them.

[written vertically on the right side of the text]

Brother Usama, this is the report of Sheik Deeb about the Brazil trip.

Third: The Island of San Andreas, its population is 50 thousand people. It has an excellent mosque. The person in charge, Hassan al-Qa'ada, is an honorable and generous man, Mustafa Al-Zoghby and 'Ali Al-Zoghby are with him. They received me well and with diligence. They took my address and asked that we keep in touch. I urge you to take care of the above-mentioned Hassan. They collected a donation amount of 5.

Fourth: Brazil. The city of Sao Paulo has more than one mosque. The big mosque is under the charge of a very wealthy Lebanon [sic] man (Hajj Mustafa Farawa). But he and his circle in the organization continue to follow Nasserism and they harbor despise and hatred for the Group. But Hajj Mustafa did not show that in speaking, a polite man, but he did not donate anything, although he has billions. I spent a week in the city, I gave Friday's sermon in its big mosque and a sermon in the Abou Baker Mosque, and two sermons in two other mosques (total donations from the whole city is around 10).

Fourth [sic]: The city of Foz do Iguacu, a city bordering Paraguay. Khalid Taqi Eddin resides in it. It has close-knit community by virtue of how small the city is. I gave the Friday sermon there. Its mosque is big and good. The number of worshipers was not more than 50 people. In the second day, I gave a sermon, about 75 people attended it and about 12 were collected in it. I left with Khalid about 10 as you said.

Fifth: I suggest more attention be given to these two communities in Brazil and Colombia where there are no competent preachers. I suggest providing them with a suitable preacher and let him be Lebanese since most of the individuals of these two communities are from Lebanon. In Sao Paulo, there is a Lebanese gentlemen by the name 'Ali Al-'Abduni He can be a full time preacher if he accepted. There is a second gentleman by the name Jihad Hamada.

They are both from Lebanon. There is a Syrian gentleman, a merchant from Humus, [IL]

They are qualified to be with the mentioned 'Ali.

Fifth [sic]: In the city of Macao, there is a group of five people that asked to become regulars and they mentioned that no one ever calls them and they have connections with the Group. I told Khalid about them and requested that he take care of that.

In conclusion, I thank all of you and ask God to give you success and steadfastness in the truth. And peace be upon you.
