

The ClickShare Wireless Presentation System from Barco consists USB powered devices (with ClickShare buttons) and a base unit. The base unit has a fixed connection to the courtroom's video projection system. You can simply connect a button to a PC or Mac and click the ClickShare button, and immediately the desktop is wirelessly transferred to the video system. Alternatively, when using a smartphone or tablet (either iOS or Android), a simple app allows you to share content as well.

Button

Connect the button to the USB port of PC or MAC, push the button, and share

Extended Desktop

Show different content on the central screen and on your laptop using extended desktop

No Installation

ClickShare is a zero footprint application, leaving no software on the client PC or Mac

Mobile

iPad, iPhone, tablet or Android users can share by using the ClickShare app

Wireless Fidelity

Uses both the 2.4 GHz and 5 GHz band guaranteeing a reliable wireless connection at all time

Video and Audio

Play video at 30 fps, with sound through the meeting room's AV system
